Our Process

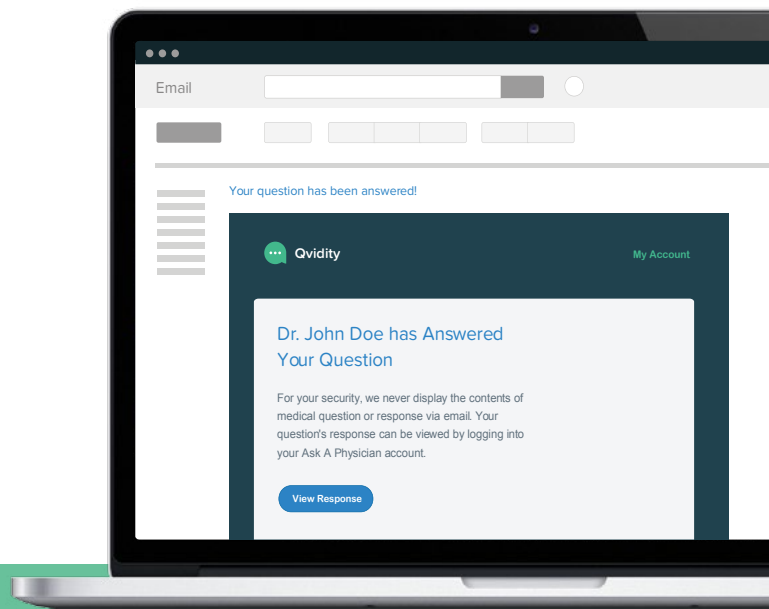

- We start by working hand in hand with you to determine exactly which Qvidity subscription best fits your practice and providers.
- Prior to product launch, we work closely with your internal team and staff to assure successful implementation (included with all subscription levels).
- After launch, we can help you aggressively grow your telehealth presence so that it becomes a significant source of revenue for your healthcare organization (included with Premium and Executive).

Branded User Experience

- We work closely with your internal or hired marketing team to ensure the Qvidity Direct user experience is cohesive with your brand, website, and EMR, with pricing, colors, logos, and copywriting customized during setup (included with Premium and Executive).

Professional Consulting

- In addition to Qvidity Direct and its robust HIPAA compliant cloud functionalities, we provide professional telehealth consulting for medical practices and systems hoping to enter the market or grow their current offerings beyond the confines of fixed equipment and portable units.
